

Character Valentines

In the spirit of Valentine's Day, today you will write Valentine's Day cards for two of the characters we have studied this year. One of your cards must be from a character in Othello. The other card must be from another character we have studied this year. Show me through the detail you include in your card that you understand the relationship these characters share (or don't share). I'm going to display these cards, so be creative! 😊
